PACIFIC SLOPE.

Nevada, October 26th.—Several citizens of this place have identified Dorsey and Patterson, the Cummings murderers. W. P. Smith, a merchant, says he sold them previsions a few days before the day on which Cummings was killed. He remembers the men perfectly well, from the fact that a box which he gave them to carry the things in was found not far from the scene of the tragedy. The box had his name or initials upon it. He sold them some pickles, and the bottle in which they were contained were also picked up near the were contained were also picked up near the same place. The finding of these clues so soon afterward impressed the memory of the soon afterward impressed the memory of the men upon him. articles from him. Oliver Change, who lives two miles from town on the Blue Tent road, saw two men at an old abandoned cabin near where the killing occurred the day before the murder. He identifies Dorsey as one of the men, and thinks Patterson is the other. A stock man named Briner is positive that Pat-terson and Dorsey are the men he saw near the spot the day of the tragedy. Mike Lynch, whose ranch is situated about a mile rom where the stage was stopped, saw two men in the woods near the place the day before. He is certain that the men now under arrest are the same parties. When he met them in the woods they did not seem inclined to talk much, and gave him to understand that he had better move on. While talking to the men he noticed that one of the ham-mers of their shotgun stood back farther than the other, a psculiarity of which he subsequently informed the detectives. Through the information gained from a convict named Crum, it was learned that Patterson and Dorsey had stopped for a while at the cabin of an ex-convict named Frazze, near Rough and Ready. Upon going there the detectives found a gun which corresponded exactly with Lynch's description of the weapon carried by the men he saw near his place the day before the robbery. The gun is now at the Court-house. Other persons ceedings will be kept private till the trial comes on, but it is understood that the iu-formation laid before them clearly establishes the guilt of Patterson and Dorsey and brands them as the murderers of William N. A correspondent of the Hawaiian Gazette, writing from Honokahau, says: "The other day among a group of children leaning on a fence I noticed the shiny, swollen features and distorted fingers of a poor little leper. He was about 10 years old. Two other children had their arms intertwined with his, and no one had taught them any caution. He had a sister in a like condition. I hear of one other leper in the valley—an adult. They say the officers have been here to seek, but could not find them. Last night a leper from Waikee came to see me on business, and sat in one of my chairs. I did not learn the peculiarity of his obvious disease till after he had left."

LOCAL INTELLIGENCE.

not comply with the ordinance requiring fellow. pawnbrokers to file a bond in the sum of $1,000 and take out a pawabraker's license. Yesterday the case was tried in the Police Court, and the evidence disclosed that Lesky had at one time put out the usual three-balls pawnbroker's sign, and that when called upon by the City Auditor for the usual license of $50 per quarter he disclaimed the business and took down the sign. Afterwards, how-ever, he precured a book and blank bills of and took down the sign. Afterwards, however, he precured a book and blank bills of sale, and when any one came there to obtain money upon any article of jewelry or clothing he adopted the course of taking a bill of sale, with a promise to allow the party who desired the loan the right to repurchase the article at an agreed advance. Several of the witnesses testified that Lasky told them upon various occasions when they went to his place in search of stolen articles (and in a great many instances they found the stolen articles in his possestiot), that he only held the articles until the parties would return the amounts and redeem the pledges. That a large quantity of jawelry and a large number of watches were found at his place, each marked with the name of the person who had left the same. City Attorney Anderson contended that even if the defendant did take a bill of sale granting absolute title on its face, that the intention of the parties, manifest by the agreement to resell, was to consider the article so soll only deposited as a pledge. That the grossly indicate such intention. That the law was never intended to permit a person to do a thing by indirection what it does not allow directly. That the course of taking a bill of sale granting about the parties described had been arrested. Escless Fright. To worry about any Liver, Kidney or Urinary Trouble, especially Bright's Disease or Diabetes, as Hop Bitters never fails of a cure where a cure is possible. We know this.

Courting Disease. The individual may be said to court disease who exposes himself to the miasmatic influ ences which give rise to chills and fever, and without previously fortifying his system against their insidious attacks by the use of a protective medicinal agent. The hardiest onstitution is by no means proof against such maladies, much less one naturally weak or bilious, or the antagonistic power of which is lessened by an irregular habit of body. The inhabitants of the bottom lands of the South, of the new clearings of the West, of every locality of the American continent. fact, where malaria is epidemic or sporadic, declare that the only true antidote to the miasmatic virus that they have ever used is Hostetter's Stomach Bitters. a woman of good antecedents, whose adoption of the stage as a profession augments the respect in which it is held by persons jealous for its good repute. Mrs. Langtry takes such parts as Rosalind in "As You Like It," and, judging from newspaper reports, with the success due to intelligence and hard work, if not gening. She is described as a dignified and graceful woman, whose carriage and manners indicate her familiarity with the Mrs. Langtry is known as "The Jersey Lily." a compliment to her very remarkable physical attractions, which are the subject of numerous pictures and descriptions. She adopted the histrionic profession as a matter of business, with the intention of making money. Her father is dependent, and Mrs. Langtry is understood to have studied for the stage with the view to earn the means of promoting his comfort in his old age.

The new railroad bridge over Greenhorn creek, Nevada county, has been com-pleted, and the timbers of the old struct-ure entirely removed. The new bridge is a Gorrill patent, which is considered as good as any bridge of the age. The structure is four feet narrower than the old one, and on account of much of the work being iron, looks lighter, but is very strong, and there is a scarcely perceptible vibration on the passage of trains.

Harmes reached the lines, while he was yet fastened under the log, tied a chain around the timber, hitched a team to the timber, and it was drawn off of him. He then crawled around and hitched the team to the wagon, climbed on the wagon and then

People living one or five hundred miles from Sacramento can purchase goods through our COUNTRY ORDER DEPARTMENT at the same price as though standing in person at our counters. We do not-as many do-make one price for city customers and another for those living at a distance; but all are served alike, and our years of experience in this branch of the business has been sufficient to warrant us to say that all demands will be properly attended to, and that a single trial order cannot fail to establish our standing in this respect, and to insure a continuance of your patronage.

There are many at the age of thirty to sixty who are troubled with too frequent evacuation of the bladder, often accompanied by a slight smarting or ourning sensation, and a weakening of the system in a manner the patient cannot account for. On examining the urinary deposits a ropy sediment will often be found, and sometimes small particles of albumen will appear, or the color will be of a thin milkish bue, again changing to a dark and torpid appearance. There are many men who die of this difficulty, ignorant of the cases, which is the second stage of seminal weakness. Dr. S. will agarantee a perfect cure in all such cases, and a healthy restoration of the genito-urinary organs.
